UNITED CRUSADES, FEDERATED FUNDS AND COMMUNITY CHESTS

Final reports are now in showing total contributions to the various campaigns for funds throughout the Company. PFE employes as a whole contributed or pledged almost $25,000 to these various drives during 1965 and it is indeed gratifying to see such generous support of the charitable organizations so represented.

Coupled with the feeling of well-being associated with the Holiday Season, we may all be especially proud of having participated to such a degree in helping to bring health and happiness to those of our neighbors who are less fortunate than ourselves.

CAR SERVICE DEPARTMENT
SUPERINTENDENCY - CENTRAL DISTRICT

The Superintendent at Sacramento, California, reports to the Assistant General Manager, San Francisco, and has jurisdiction over Car Service operations in Northern Nevada and the San Joaquin and Sacramento Valleys of California, with Sacramento, Stockton, Fresno and Bakersfield as the main loading centers.

In 1964, 55,425 cars and 2,793 trailers were shipped from this territory via Southern Pacific and Western Pacific Railroads. The principal crops are potatoes, melons, grapes, tree fruit, tomatoes, asparagus, lettuce and oranges. Also, canned goods, wine and frozen foods are shipped in good volume.

In his Sacramento headquarters, Superintendent F. E. Dosch has the assistance of a Chief Clerk, Car Distributor, Diversion Bureau, Timekeeper, Records and Statistics Bureau and an Accounting Bureau. Western District accounting is also handled in this office.

In the field, supervision is afforded by Assistant Superintendent S. Remkus at Fresno, District Agents T. T. Watson at Bakersfield and S. J. Albanese at Stockton; also, Agents A. Beck, D. M. Combs, W. E. Dudley at Stockton, Fresno and Sacramento respectively.

The Roseville Agency deserves special mention as a key point on the Southern Pacific Railroad. Every perishable waybill accompanying shipments passing Roseville is reviewed and arrangements are made with the Ice Plant for necessary servicing. Fruit blocks are compiled and transmitted to all interested parties. The Roseville Agency acts as a clearing house in receiving and placing diversions when other Northern California offices are closed. It is also charged with responsibility for receipt of empty cars and vans, their placement to the Roseville Shops for cleaning and repair, plus handling final orders from the Sacramento Car Distributor for movement of empties to loading areas along the Pacific Coast.

PERSONAL

Mr. A. E. Chiasson:

In reply to your letter of November 19, 1965, file P-7-58, please find enclosed a group photograph (and negative) plus a writeup of the Sacramento Superintendent's office and the Roseville Agency.

As you suggested, we made the outlines quite brief but hope they will be satisfactory. If you desire any elaboration, please let me know.

(Seated) R. W. Anderson, Agent, Roseville; James H. Clark, Car Distributor; Fred E. Dosch, Superintendent; (Standing) George W. Flynn, Chief Clerk.

The Superintendent at Sacramento, California reports to the Assistant General Manager, San Francisco, and has jurisdiction over Car Service functions in Northern Nevada and the San Joaquin and Sacramento Valleys of California with Sacramento, Stockton, Fresno and Bakersfield as the main loading centers.

In 1964 55,425 cars and 2,793 trailers were shipped from this territory via Southern Pacific and Western Pacific railroads. The principal crops are potatoes, melons, grapes, tree fruit, tomatoes, asparagus, lettuce and oranges. Also, canned goods, wine and frozen foods are shipped in good volume.

In his Sacramento headquarters, Superintendent F. E. Dosch has the assistance of a Chief Clerk, Car Distributor, Diversion Department, Timekeeper, Records and Statistics Department and an Accounting Department. Western District accounting is also handled in this office.

In the field, supervision is afforded by Assistant Superintendent S. Remkus at Fresno, District Agents T. T. Watson at Bakersfield and S. J. Albanese at Stockton, plus Agents A. Beck, D. M. Combs, W. E. Dudley at Stockton, Fresno and Sacramento, respectively.

The Roseville Agency deserves special mention as a key point on the Southern Pacific Railroad, remaining open 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Every perishable waybill is reviewed and arrangements are made with the Ice Plant for necessary servicing. Fruit blocks are compiled and transmitted to all interested parties. The Roseville Agency acts as a clearing house in receiving and placing diversions when other offices are closed. It is also charged with responsibility for receipt of empty cars and vans, their placement to the Roseville Shops for cleaning and repair plus handling final orders from the Sacramento Car Distributor for movement of empties to loading areas along the Pacific Coast.
